What is the Spinal Cord Society?

The Spinal Cord Society (SCS) is an international organization, with over 200 chapters, whose main purpose is to find a cure for chronic spinal cord paralysis. Since a spinal cord injury is really not preventable, we must find a clinical treatment for such a devastating injury. Because of SCS and events like this one, we were able to open three laboratories in three countries under our own control to finalize our patented technology for human trials hopefully to start soon. This work should help advance Parkinson's, head injuries and many other conditions. Without YOUR help, none of this work would be possible.

NOT Endless Research

Thanks to our many supporters worldwide, SCS has been able to remain independent and goal-focused in its research efforts. Over the past few years, our scientists have formulated six scientific papers based off our discoveries. All six have been submitted to scientific journals for verification and publication. To date, we are pleased to report that all have been accepted for publication. Moreover, two have been published in the journal Neuroscience Methods and one in the journal Histology & Histopathology. The other three are pending publication. Our lab is conducting one last large trial— a electrophysiological study to assure the world our work is sound prior to human trials. It is felt by many stakeholders that once this work gets into humans, that the amazing refunction results that we are already achieving could be limitless— we can't stop now!
